

11-30-1978

Easterner, Vol. 30, No. 10, November 30, 1978

Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College

Follow this and additional works at: http://dc.ewu.edu/student_newspapers

Recommended Citation

Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College, "Easterner, Vol. 30, No. 10, November 30, 1978" (1978). Student Newspapers. 477.

http://dc.ewu.edu/student_newspapers/477

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives & Special Collections at EWU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of EWU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact jotto@ewu.edu.

Sexual harassment a growing problem

By Julie Norbeck

For some experiences, once is enough.

That's what one faculty member thought last summer when an Eastern coed came to the campus Women's Center complaining of sexual harassment.

Applied Psychology Professor Joan Niemann said the student told her she had withdrawn from a class rather than risk receiving a poor grade from a male professor whose repeated social invitations she'd rejected.

When Niemann told others in the Women's Faculty Caucus, some of them supplied additional reports of sexual harassment and all agreed something needed to be done.

A first step toward solving the problem was taken last week when Eastern students and faculty met at the Women's Center to discuss their responses to sexual hassles on campus.

Niemann opened the meeting with some descriptions of harassment from a report sponsored by the Association of American Colleges.

The report said harassment of students can range from sexual innuendo or humor at inappropriate times to outright physical assault, and it hinges on a spurned professor's ability to wreak academic revenge.

A graduate at one of Eastern's social service programs gave an illustration.

She said she'd briskly refused her internship supervisor's offers for dates and he had then recommended the department not credit her internship, saying she had a cold, business-like approach to her clients.

The student did receive the credits after successfully confronting the man before a department committee, but said her defense probably would have been easier if she had first told someone else about the situation. "I thought I had it under control and I didn't want to be a tattler," she explained.

Another woman suggested that talking to a professor's former students can reveal that he is a practiced hand at harassment.

"I was beginning to seriously doubt myself until I did," she said. "The situation is still incredibly stressful, but at least I know I'm not imagining it."

A more direct approach to clearing up such uncertainty was offered by another student. "Hey, I just ask them 'Are you sexually harassing me?'" she said.

Although the remark was met with laughter, it seemed to touch on a central part of the problem. The women at the meeting expressed fear of reprisal and ridicule at being straightforward about harassment. The AAC report characterized sexual harassment as an issue hidden by just such fears.

Niemann says the caucus has a two-fold plan for combatting the problem.

First, they are applying for an AAC grant to help raise the campus community's awareness of sexual harassment.

The caucus is also working on a more effective grievance process than the present one, which Niemann says is "intimidating" to students.

To protest harassment at Eastern now, a student goes through a chain of male officials comprised of the department head, the dean of the department's school, the equal opportunity officer and the compliance officer.

Meeting participants suggested a woman grievance officer located at the Women's Center as an alternative to that process.

The Easterner

Volume 30, Number 10

Cheney, Washington

Thursday, November 30, 1978

Weigelt examines agenda run-around

By Liz Viall

An "unhealthy atmosphere" between EWU administration and students was pointed out by A.S. President Ron Weigelt at the Nov. 16 Board of Trustees meeting when student government leaders explained what they saw as a "clog of communication" in the scheduling of BOT agenda items.

Eight A.S. items were not placed on the BOT agenda when Board Secretary Ken Dolan, A.S. Speaker Kim Wiseman, and A.S. Legislator Denver Parmenter seemed to agree to hold off on the items until the December meeting. As a result, Dolan did not send the items to the proper committee for action.

Weigelt said it had first appeared that the administration had purposely cut the students off from BOT access.

Tim Fredrickson, A.S. assistant attorney general, looked into the matter for the students and found that the administration was not attempting to control student input to the BOT, but rather that they preferred proposals to be presented in a more comprehensive and appealing package to the board.

"The feelings I got from both Ken Dolan and President Fredrickson seemed that they were very favorable to the student proposals themselves," he said, and that their act of postponing them would serve to enhance the BOT's favorable reception of them.

A new policy instituted by the administration channels all financial requests first to President Fredrickson's planning and budgeting committee. Items then go to the BOT finance committee and full board.

Board member Fred Enlow said the BOT needed plenty of time to work with the issues. "A set policy process is preferred."

Weigelt, by request of the A.S. legislature, presented the eight items to both the finance committee and the BOT. "I especially asked them to consider the legal aid services, activities director and minimum wage hike items," he said. "But all the items were held over to the December meeting."

Another reason for scheduling the items in December, he said, was that students would not be in class for the next BOT meeting, scheduled during the Christmas break.

BOT chairman Mary Wilson suggested the finance committee change its meeting date to a time when school was in session. The board then moved the meeting date to Thursday, Dec. 7.

Daryl Hagie, provost for student services, said the planning and budgeting committee, which is the first step for the items, would look into the issue before that date.

In other business, the board revised and then approved a 1979 meeting schedule. Two dates were changed so that school would be in session when the board met.

The board also approved the merging of geography and anthropology into one department.

Katherine Sherman, provost for academic affairs, told the board that geography had become more scientific in recent years and many universities maintain useful departments of geography and anthropology. "Our departments have much in common," she said. "They have worked together on projects such as a dig in central Washington."

Anthropology was formerly combined with the department of sociology.

Another change in departments came as the BOT voted to change the name of Eastern's School of Business and Administration to the school of business.

Sherman told the board the change would have no effect in terms of cost or accreditation.

The board's next meeting is Dec. 14 in Spokane.

John Corapi photo

Lifeblood

Eastern students rolled up their sleeves earlier this week to donate blood in the annual ROTC drive. More than 250 pints were given during a busy two days. Donors and their families are eligible to receive blood through the EWU account indefinitely.

Cost study indicates loss

By Linda Kinler

An independent study made by two Eastern business majors shows a possible profit loss to the school and state taxpayers in the use of Louise Anderson Hall as a Conference and Activities Center.

However, Eastern's Business Manager Russ Hartman said that the students were given "some bad numbers" and that there would be no loss to students or taxpayers since there is no tax consideration in the dorms.

The study, composed by Steve Schneider, administrative assistant for the A.S. and Ed Woodell, a business major, dealt with the costs of operating L.A. as a student residence, as a CAC only and as a combination dorm/CAC, and the cost losses.

Schneider, a resident of L.A., decided to do a cost efficiency study when he returned from summer vacation and found the entire dorm used for the CAC instead of only one wing as he claimed he was told.

"The administration is taking the dorm away from the students and putting them in other dorms so L.A. can be used for conferences," he said. "But the other dorms do not have the same type of atmosphere and the students don't like that."

"As a business major I couldn't see how they (the administration) thought they were going to make a profit off the CAC or even break even. They would need at least 60 percent capacity," he said.

"I appreciate their interest," Hartman said. "Unfortunately, they're considering L.A. as a financial entity. We consider all the dorms, plus food services, as one package."

"We need $14,238 to break even on L.A. Hall," he said. "In the period covering Sept. 15 to Nov. 1 of this year we made $3,300 on the CAC. With an average like that we could make good money. The profits stay in Housing and Food Services. It helps in reduction of housing costs to students. You don't get that by making bad decisions."

Hartman added that the dorms are supported by university revenues such as room and board payments.

"We're $200 per year lower than Western or Central," he said. "There is a new kind of part-time student population; people who attend conferences and workshops for only a few days. We need the facilities to meet their needs."

Schneider said that he could see the effects a CAC could have on a school like Eastern. "In 10 years time, it could be fantastic. But my concern is with the students of today. If it weren't for them, no one would be here."

Getting those "bad numbers" for the study was not the fault of the students, Hartman said. "They did a good job and put a lot of work into it. I'm anxious to get together with them and work on it some more."

Weather wrap-up

Weather data for the week Nov. 20-Nov. 28

	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.	Sun.	Mon.	Tues.
Max temp.	26	29	22	30	32	33	28	28	32
Min temp.	16	20	18	22	26	28	26	26	24
Precip.	.12in.								.32in
Snowfall	1.6in.								2.0in

High barometer reading--30.35in Sunday, Nov. 26
Low barometer reading--29.92in Monday, Nov. 27

Weather comments: Following the cold Arctic blast and heavy snowfall of the previous week, cold foggy weather prevailed over the Pacific Northwest the past week. High pressure continues to dominate over the region with cool air trapped near the ground causing widespread fog. Temperatures continue on the cool side averaging about 5 degrees below normal. A rapid moving storm Monday night (27th) moved through the region depositing two inches of new snow. Reflecting the cold, dry conditions, November has accumulated 12.1 inches of snowfall (normal 6 inches) but only 1.50 inches of precipitation (normal 2.20 inches). Robert Quinn, Meteorologist, Wayne Shaw, Observer.

CHRISTMAS SEWING SPECIAL LATEST '78 MODELS

ALL METAL CONSTRUCTION—WRITTEN WARRANTY

- ★ new heavy duty zig-zag—$99 and up
- ★ new stretch-stitch free-arm—Save $100
- ★ used machines - guaranteed—$39 and up
- ★ repair service—17 years experience

See at Kirby Co. of Cheney or call 235-8484

Work-study open to veterans

If you're a veteran enrolled at EWU, the Center for Experiential Learning has a special program that can provide on-the-job training experience along with academic credit.

"Our function is to provide experiential learning and credit for students through a particular field," said Bob McCullom, veteran's coordinator for the CEL. "We are not an employment service, we do not provide part-time jobs. We provide jobs for learning."

The vet can acquire up to 15 quarter hours of experiential credit, preferably two to five per quarter.

Services are provided on a one-to-one basis, McCullom said. "I will secure the internships for the vet, screen the prospective employee, make the appointment, design a learning contract with the university, negotiate the funding, work hours and academic credit. I also ask the vet why he wants that type of work and what he hopes to derive from it."

McCullom said he will place a vet in a position that can help with his major. If a particular job isn't available, then McCullom keeps a file and contacts the vet when the right job does open.

Employers like this situation, he added. They know the employee and what kind of job he's doing. It sometimes leads to fulltime employment after graduation. The vet has the references, the degree and the experience, which is the biggest thing.

Among the jobs currently available are social services, home economics, criminal justice, chemistry, communications, accounting, marketing, sales, art and public relations.

The veterans of Eastern are an untapped population, McCullom said. Statistics show that the average vet is 28 years old, married, has two children and no time to switch majors. He usually stays with the original program. The G.I. Bill generally allows for only two program changes.

"There are an estimated 800 veterans on campus utilizing the G.I. Bill," he added. "I don't know how many are not. Many people aren't even aware of the benefits available under the bill."

CEL has been laying the ground work for the program since September, McCullom said. The focus is on the vets. McCullom is working in conjunction with Bob Hille and the Veteran's Affairs Office.

"We're deriving more placements as time goes by," he said. "I'm currently investigating other jobs for the expansion of the program."

Writers needed

Interested in journalism but not sure you want to major in it?

The Easterner is looking for both experienced and inexperienced writers for its winter quarter staff. Credits can be earned under Journalism 100.

Students will learn the basics of news writing and some newspaper production tips. There are no prerequisites.

Student photographers can also earn credit on the staff. Photographers should apply to Photo Editor John Corapi.

The Easterner is also looking for an experienced writer in the fields of entertainment and sports. The position of entertainment editor is paid and also eligible for credit.

Anyone interested in signing up for the staff or applying for the position of entertainment editor should contact Nancy Greer or Liz Viall at the Easterner office, PUB 119.

Graduation forms due

Students planning to graduate spring quarter should get their applications into the registrar's office by January 15. Students must apply for graduation not less than two quarters before completion of degree requirements.

Forms are available at Showalter 114, as well as certification forms for education majors. A $10 fee is required before graduation.

Students who plan to graduate summer quarter but wish to participate in the spring commencement are to contact the Graduation Evaluator in the Registrar's Office, Showalter 114, before May 4, 1979.

THE FACTS:

1 HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF WOMEN USE ENCORE OVAL™

Encare Oval™ was introduced to American doctors in November 1977. Almost immediately, it attracted widespread physician and patient attention.

Today, Encare Oval is being used by hundreds of thousands of women, and users surveyed report overwhelming satisfaction. Women using Encare Oval say they find it an answer to their problems with the pill, IUD's, diaphragms, and aerosol foams.

2 EFFECTIVENESS ESTABLISHED IN CLINICAL TESTS.

Encare Oval™ was subjected to one of the most rigorous tests ever conducted for a vaginal contraceptive. Results were excellent—showing that Encare Oval provides consistent and extremely high sperm-killing protection. This recent U.S. report supports earlier studies in European laboratories and clinics.

Each Encare Oval insert contains a precise, premeasured dose of the potent, sperm-killing agent nonoxynol 9. Once properly inserted, Encare Oval melts and gently effervesces, dispersing the sperm-killing agent within the vagina.

The success of any contraceptive method depends on consistent and accurate use. Encare Oval™ is so convenient you won't be tempted to forget it. And so simple to insert, it's hard to make a mistake.

If pregnancy poses a special risk for you, your contraceptive method should be selected after consultation with your doctor.

3 NO HORMONAL SIDE EFFECTS.

Encare Oval™ is free of hormones, so it cannot create hormone-related health problems—like strokes and heart attacks—that have been linked to the pill. And, there is no hormonal disruption of your menstrual cycle.

Most people find Encare Oval completely satisfactory. In a limited number of cases, however, burning or irritation has been experienced by either or both partners. If this occurs, use should be discontinued.

4 EASIER TO INSERT THAN A TAMPON.

The Encare Oval™ is smooth and small, so it inserts quickly and easily—without an applicator. There's none of the bother of aerosol foams and diaphragms. No device inside you. No pill to remember every day. Simply use as directed when you need protection.

You can buy Encare Oval whenever you need it...it's available without a prescription. And each Encare Oval is individually wrapped to fit discreetly into your pocket or purse.

5 BECAUSE ENCORE OVAL IS INSERTED IN ADVANCE, IT WON'T INTERRUPT LOVEMAKING.

Since there's no mess or bother, Encare Oval gives you a measure of freedom many contraceptives can't match.

The hormone-free Encare Oval. Safer for your system than the pill or IUD. Neater and simpler than traditional vaginal contraceptives. So effective and easy to use that hundreds of thousands have already found it—quite simply—the preferred contraceptive.

©1978 Eaton-Merz Laboratories, Inc.
Norwich, New York 13815 EA 1617

The most talked about contraceptive since the pill.

4 Seasons COFFEE

Specializing in custom roasted and blended coffees

Teas, Coffees, Accessories
N. 5 Wall, Spckane 747-2315

NON-SMOKER?

Big Savings On Auto And Life Insurance

If You Qualify

*By dividends paid twice yearly on currently expiring policies.

DAVE HARRISON

Farmer's Insurance Group

1705 2nd Cheney 235-6165

Our policy is saving you money.

David Baber photo
The original statue of Sacajawea, as she now stands in the basement of Hargreaves Hall, is soon to have a facelift. Professor John Ross of the anthropology department will supervise the student project.

Contest entries taken

Originality and imagination are the keys to a poetry and photography contest sponsored by The Easterner this winter quarter.

Cash prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to the top three EWU student entries in each category. Winning entries will be published in a winter quarter issue of The Easterner.

Poems will be limited to six per applicant. There are no length or subject limitations. Manuscripts should be typed and double-spaced with name, address, and telephone number included on each page.

Poetry submissions will be judged by editors of the Willow Springs, a campus creative writing publication. Winning poems may be printed in the spring issue of the magazine.

Photographers should submit

GOP leader talks tonight

State Representative Mike McGinnis (Rep.-Spokane) will be the featured speaker at the EWU Young Republican meeting to night at 7 p.m.

Vice-chairman Jerry King said the meeting, to be held in PUB 121, is open to the public. He said any students interested in the club are invited to come.

This will be the group's last meeting of the year.

Original Sacajawea Indian statue rejuvenated

By Lisa DeAlva
Victim's right arm completely broken off. Left wrist broken. Several fingers on left hand broken off. Both eyes gouged out. Assailants left initials carved on various parts of victim's body. No suspects at this time.

Believe it or not, the crime was committed at Eastern. The victim was a statue of Sacajawea, the Shoshone Indian maiden who guided Lewis and Clark through the wilderness.

"From 1916, when the graduating class unveiled its gift to the Cheney Normal School in Showalter Hall's first floor rotunda until roughly ten years ago, Sacajawea had pointed the way for all who visited the school," said Kathy Fleming, alumni program assistant.

"She was created by a well-known sculptor in Boston named Cedallin and came to be regarded as the official hostess of the Cheney Normal School."

But Sacajawea was not destined to spend a peaceful eternity in Showalter Hall. In fact, during the years between 1945 and 1960, Fleming said, she played a large part in the ongoing rivalry between Whitworth College and Eastern.

At one point, she disappeared from Showalter only to be found in a boxcar at a train station in Portland, Ore.

Another time, a group of Whitworth saboteurs placed an out-house right in front of her, causing Sacajawea to "point the way" to the men's room.

On another occasion, students and faculty returned to school to find Sacajawea and an anonymous Indian warrior, also of Showalter Hall, on the front lawn in a very compromising position, to say the least.

But of all the indignities she suffered, those were not the worst. The statue was a symbol of wisdom and courage to some. But to others her outstretched arm was a jungle gym and her body a tree trunk for carving. No statue could stand up to this type of treatment. Sacajawea, broken and disfigured, was moved to the basement of Hargreaves Hall in 1960.

She was replaced with a more modernistic interpretation of Sacajawea, which was created by Harold Balazz of Spokane, a nationally known sculptor. The popularity of the new statue, however, seemed to pale in comparison with the old, Fleming said. But the modern Sacajawea was definitely here to stay.

The original Sacajawea seemed destined for the rock heap until John Ross of the anthropology department rescued her. Ross then made plans to restore the statue to her former likeness, with the help of his students.

Sacajawea is still in the basement of Hargreaves Hall but will soon be under repair. Sometime in the near future she will make her second debut, appropriately enough, on the second floor rotunda in Showalter Hall.

Hopefully, she will be treated with the respect she deserves because, after all, how many of us get a second chance like this?

Montreal studies offered

Eastern students now have the opportunity to study at a Canadian university for the same price they pay at EWU.

Dr. Cornelius Groenen, director of foreign study programs in the department of modern languages and literatures, said Eastern has a year-round program at Concordia University in Montreal.

"Students enroll at Eastern, pay the same tuition and may take any of the courses at the university," he said. The second term at the university begins Jan. 8 and students should apply immediately.

Groenen said the university, though English-speaking, has an impressive program in modern languages, especially in French. Concordia University has two campuses, a high-rise building in the center of the metropolitan area and a traditional campus in West Montreal, the English section of the city.

For more information and registration, contact Dr. Groenen, Patterson Hall 3144 or the Office of Extended Programs, Sue Holden, Showalter Hall 220.

SNIP & STYLE
Complete Hair Care Products
Men's & Women's Cuts
& Styles also
Redken Products
Call 235-4975 for appointment

COUPON

Jontue Cologne

5-oz. size

$4.99 with coupon

Only six left, hurry!

Owl Pharmacy

120 F Street Cheney 235-8441

Coupon must accompany order

COUPON

TWO . . . NEW
at MICHAEL'S SALON

NEW—Evening Hours

Tuesday-Friday until 9

and Monday afternoons

NEW—Sandi Harris

Haircutting Specialist

Experienced in Men's & Women's Current Styles

ONLY $7—Shampoo, cut, dry

CALL 235-6295

on College Ave. across from Telephone Office through the Barber Shop

COUPON GOOD ANYTIME THROUGH DEC. 22, 1978

2 for 1
DINNER
ONLY
$3.65

the elegant egg

ROAST BEEF DINNER

SOUP OR SALAD
BAKED POTATO OR
FRENCH FRIES
LOAF OF HOT
SOURDOUGH BREAD

The Elegant Egg Restaurant

235-8438

1926 - 1st

Cheney

SARCO
For Better Buys

602 W. Riverside

STORE HOURS: Mon.-Sat. 9:30-6:00

BIKINI PANTY
BRIEFS

Sizes 5-10

SARCO
Price 2/$1.00

Junior Styled
Pants n' Jeans

Sizes 3-15

Large Selection

SARCO
Price $10.00

ROBES

Large Selection

Sizes S-XL

Values to $27.49

SARCO
Price $10.00

SWEATERS

Assorted Styles
and Colors

Sizes
S-M-L Values to $16.00
SARCO Price $8.00

BRUSHED ORLON
BOOTIES

Assorted Styles
and Colors

SARCO
Price 2 pair $1.00

LONG GOWNS

Assorted Styles
and Colors

Values to $8.99

Sizes
S-XL
SARCO
Price $4.00

JUNIOR TOPS

Assorted Styles
and Colors

Values to $12.99

Sizes
S-M-L
SARCO
Price $4.00

LONG COATS

Values to $64.00

Large Selection
SARCO
Price $38.00

ORLON SOCKS

Assorted Styles
and Colors

Sizes
5-10
SARCO
Price 77¢ pr.

PLUS HUNDREDS OF UNADVERTISED SPECIALS

Opinion

Pat on the back

It has become somewhat of a tradition for The Easterner editor to write a farewell thank-you column at the close of the school year or at the end of his/her stint as chief lunatic. Well, the school year is only one-third over and this editor isn't saying goodbye just yet, but a word of thanks is still in order.

They say the first time is always the hardest, no matter what the task it is you are trying to accomplish. When 20 strangers wandered through the door last September, none of them fully realized what it would mean to be a part of the Easterner staff. From Monday through Thursday, the days whizzed by in blur of clattering typewriters, terrifying deadlines, and hectic late-night schedules.

But amidst the noise and confusion, a camaraderie began to develop. And somehow, through all the pandemonium, most managed to hang on to their sanity.

If Bob Hope were to come strolling through this office today, humming "Thanks for the Memories," this is what I would recall first:

Unflappable reporters such as Mary Matsumura, who sat through student legislature meetings the entire quarter and lived to tell about it. . . Diana Robinson, an eager and willing writer who has shown much improvement and increasing skill. . . Tom McCrady, a veteran staffer from last year who helped out in many tight spots. . . Lisa DeAlva, whose zany outlook brightened not only her stories but the lives of everyone in the office. . . Rick Salvadalena, a steady, reliable writer with a flair for whipping life into the dulllest of news items. . . Julie Norbeck, another recruit from last year who has contributed fine features. . . Greg Spanjer, a conscientious worker who put in long hours without complaint and added much to the entertainment pages. . . and Isabelle Astigarraga, an exchange student from France who writes better in a foreign language than many who were born to it.

And in the sports department, an able crew included Hal Bronkema, always willing to take a stab at anything. . . Bruce Holbert, who invested much time in covering intramural action. . . and "Eagle Eye" Dan Heiligenstein, who devoted many a Tuesday evening to tedious headline-writing sessions.

A competent reporting staff was backed up by an equally skilled group of photographers. These creative geniuses, who rarely griped about getting last-minute assignments that send them tromping all over campus, include Dave Baber, Shawn Boling, Adam Namerow, Dan Rock, Evan Rupert and Doug Wright. And even though they joined late in the game, lab assistants Dan Harris and Doug Hilson jumped right into the swing of things.

Creativity and originality was the trademark of resident artist Debbie Mason, whose cartoons and illustrations added much to the newspaper each week.

And who could forget our loveable advisor and ad manager Chuck St. John, who helped guide us through the first frantic weeks. Also, thanks to Jenny Gould, advertising assistant and trusty proof-reader.

The editorial staffers, who assume the bulk of the burden of getting a paper out every week, include news editor Linda Kinler, a top-notch writer who never complains about being assigned stories 20 minutes before deadline. . . feature editor Carol Wetzel, who dreamed up the idea of "So you want to be a . . .?" and kept it going strong. . . Kitty MacInnis, entertainment editor, who managed to juggle coverage to appeal to all tastes. . . Scott Bahr, sports editor, who patiently kept all the sports news flowing in week after week. . . photo editor John Corapi, a darkroom dictator who made everything run smoothly and only occasionally tried to scare the editor by insisting all the pictures were lost. . . and Lizzie Viall, associate editor and right-hand man, who dished out assignments, pounded out story after story and cheerfully stayed up until 2 a.m. several times to finish laying out the newspaper.

An editor couldn't ask for a more dedicated and willing bunch. Thanks, gang.--N.G.

The Easterner

Managing Editor..... Nancy Greer
Associate Editor..... Liz Viall
News Editor..... Linda Kinler
Entertainment Editor..... Kitty MacInnis
Feature Editor..... Carol Wetzel
Sports Editor..... Scott Bahr
Reporters. . . Isabelle Astigarraga, Hal Bronkema, Lisa DeAlva, Dan Heiligenstein, Bruce Holbert, Mary Matsumura, Tom McCrady, Julie Norbeck, Diana Robinson, Rick Salvadalena, Greg Spanjer
Photo Editor..... John Corapi
Photographers. . . David Baber, Andy Elliott, Adam Namerow, Dan Rock, Evan Rupert, Doug Wright
Lab assistants..... Dan Harris, Doug Hilson
Advertising/Proof Reader..... Jenny Gould
Graphics..... Debbie Mason
Advisor and ad manager..... Chuck St. John

Letters

BSU replies

This letter is in response to Marc Lindsey's opening letter in the November 16, 1978 issue of the Easterner.

Marc Lindsey neglected to get the facts about a request to put the Black Student Union on the agenda for the A.S. Legislative meeting which met on November 13, 1978. We, the BSU, asked to be put on the agenda four (4) days in advance. The A.S. secretary failed to fill our request. Due to her error, the A.S. office gave us first priority on the agenda.

The request was honored verbally at the November 13, 1978 A.S. Legislative meeting. The request for funds to send a black representative from EWU to Atlanta for the National Organization for the Black Student Conference was a legitimate request and was respected by the legislators who voted approval of the funds.

Opportunities for students to be involved in educational experiences is or should be a priority to the university and with the student body at Eastern.

At the A.S. meeting, the BSU was unfairly reprimanded and was so demanded to give A.S. legislators additional time to approve the BSU budget. Due to the secretary's error, the BSU budget had not been reviewed in advance. The situation was unfortunate. However, it appears that Marc Lindsey's concern was with the reallocation of $550.00 (from one BSU budget category to another) for an educational experience of a black student. It would seem more appropriate that he be concerned with such cost as $24,192 and $3,495, both of which were apparently wasted on obviously unwanted (or poorly publicized?) entertainment for students at EWU. The procedures of this transaction to which Mr. Lindsey seems to be so vehemently opposed, are of little consequence but rather have been used as a smoke screen to cloud some underlying issues that apparently prevail for Mr. Lindsey. His retaliation in the Easterner as a legislative member, a representative of the entire EWU student body, most certainly does not reflect his interest in the cultural, educational, and social experience of black students on this campus.

Mr. Lindsey's letter was in poor taste and is regarded as an affront to the Black Student Union Organization. There is no need for this kind of harassment from our fellow representative, as we are looking forward to a cooperative relationship with the Associated Students Organization in the future.

Cynthia A. Newsom
President
Black Student Union

Football fan

Despite the win-loss record, the EWU football squad has had a very successful season. The Eagles finished second in the conference in total offense and defense, along with having six first team, all-district players. This has been an exciting season to follow as the Eagles have witnessed such events as a six-game winning streak, shutouts, and national ranking.

As a legislator and as a player, I'm proud of the desire to win the team has displayed. The squad has shown exactly what excellent coaching, good recruiting, and intense player determination can do for a team. With a perfect home record, the Eagles have never let their hometown fans down, maybe next year the fans can do the Eagles a favor and fill up the stands.

Terryl Ross
Leg. Pos. #15

Agenda goof

I read with interest the comments made by Mr. Ken Dolan, assistant to the president, in the November 16, 1978 issue of The Easterner. I find his statement to be both interesting and unique. In that article, Mr. Dolan states that the student proposed items for the agenda of the Board of Trustees' meeting are, "to be presented to the president's planning and budgeting committee."

With the proposal to increase the student minimum wage, that was done. On November 7, 1978, Ron Weigelt and I met with the Administration Advisory Group. Attending that meeting were Dr. Frederickson, Philip Marshall, Daryl Hagie, John Fayhe, Pat Whitehill, Katherine S. Sherman, and Mr. Dolan. Fred Johns was delayed and not present for the question and answer session and the final decision.

After discussing the proposal to increase the student minimum wage and the 10-page report, Dr. Frederickson asked all present if the items should be placed on the agenda for the November Board meeting. Everyone agreed that it should.

The other student items proposed for consideration by the Board of Trustees were sent to Mr. Dolan in two separate memos dated November 1 and November 2, 1978. In discussing the matter with him, he insisted that the agreed policy to be followed was discussed with Kim Wiseman and Denver Parmenter on November 3, 1978. This is after the dates that the material was submitted to him.

However, it seems that the material submitted, in a timely manner, could have been forwarded to the proper administration committee by Mr. Dolan for consideration and the new policy outlined to the Associated Students. To do otherwise, as Mr. Dolan suggested by his insistence on his November 3 conversation, loses its validity because of its ex post facto and post hoc ergo propter hoc logic.

The Board of Trustees cannot be blamed for not wanting to consider the material presented. They are responsible to the taxpayers of the State of Washington for the operations of this University. To be asked to act on material never before seen by them is unfair.

There was miscommunication somewhere. To leave things as they are not only invites disaster but more foolish mistakes.

Edward Woodell

Letters to the editor should be submitted to The Easterner office, PUB 119, no later than Tuesday noon of each publication week. All letters should be typed

So you want to be a . . . ?

Philosophy

By Carol Wetzel

Philosophy courses at Eastern are designed to reteach students how to think like they did when they were four and five years old, said Stephen H. Scott, department chairman.

"People acquire stupidity through education which trains them not to ask questions but instead to accept things as true because someone in authority told them so," Scott said. "We teach students to ask 'what does it mean' and 'is it true' and to answer those questions through analyzing arguments."

Seems like a pretty radical attitude to say that education is the cause of stupidity. Scott agrees:

"Radicalism--that's our line of work. Most good philosophers were a little bananas. They didn't quite fit in."

The chairman said a degree in philosophy isn't particularly helpful in finding a job, and teaching positions in the field are hard to come by.

"That's not our intention (preparing students for the job market). We give the student something of his own to help him oppose external forces the world puts upon him. That's the function of knowing what's true, you know you are on firm ground and that's necessary for a meaningful life."

"This department is not for the feeble-minded," he said. Students are pressured to handle difficult problems by structuring thoughts, fitting facts together to prove whether something is true. "The pressure actually gets entertaining once you get used to it," Scott said and grinned.

"If the world had only a modest amount of intelligence it'd be a lot better off." People, he said, don't think clearly, they just take "meaningless" jobs--like clerking in department stores or sometimes working in a college administration--and never question the world around them. "Most people spend their lives doing idiotic things."

Between five and 10 majors graduate with a degree from the department each year. Five faculty members comprise the staff. Philosophy split from the English department several years ago, Scott said.

Urban and Regional Planning

Students who want to have a hand in directing the future of their communities might find the path to such involvement through urban and regional planning, said Joseph N. Luther, chairman of the department.

"We're very strong on community involvement and public service," he said.

Planning is an applied, as opposed to theoretical field of study, so students spend much of their time gaining practical experience. The undergraduate program, now 10 years old, involves students in community development, comprehensive planning, survey techniques and report preparations, among other skills.

The department participates in the Partnership for Rural Improvement, an educational consortium with Washington State University, Spokane School District 81 and area community colleges. The partnership was formed to improve the process of rural planning and development and assigns both faculty and students in projects.

"We utilized students as manpower when in Reardan last year," Luther said. "We had them structure a survey in class for a comprehensive plan for Reardan." Then students went door-to-door and based on responses to the survey, drew up a plan.

These services to communities are usually donated free, Luther said. Professor Fred Hurand of the department said a desire to improve communities and at the same time gain valuable experience is motivation enough for the services.

A variety of specialized areas are open to planners, Luther said. Students can become city and county planners, site development specialists and more.

They can find positions working for local governments or in the private sector such as with financial institutions and large corporations with land holdings.

Eastern's planning department initiated a graduate program this year and it involves 10 students. There are 50 undergraduates. The planning faculty also work in the field as consultants, planners or in other positions in addition to teaching at Eastern.

Professor Bill Kelley of the department said the demand is growing for urban and regional planners and is expected to continue growing into the 1980's.

Your turn

Ray Osterberg, 44, business and history, senior--It's better than it used to be.

Brekki Moberg, 20, criminal justice, junior--The Easterner is a really good newspaper. It needs more articles about the students on campus. Some world news would be good to include too.

Ernst Gohlert, professor, department of government--I feel the coverage has improved considerably. The direction of the newspaper has taken in providing information on academic affairs is good. It's important to talk about the programs and opportunities available on campus rather than just entertainment. There is nothing wrong with entertainment, but you have to put things in terms of priority and that calls for a more serious approach.

How would you evaluate the coverage provided by the Easterner? What would you like to see included in the newspaper next quarter?

Steve Kinn, 22, history, senior--I think The Easterner gives really good coverage as far as what's going on at the campus. They've showed that it's not an administration paper by printing stories about the football player being declared ineligible and the HEW investigation. A few years back, the newspaper put in outside issues, not just stories relating to students. I would like to see more of that again.

Mary Shears, computer services--I usually pick it up first thing Thursday mornings and read it before work. I especially enjoy he letters to the editor. But I would like to see stories once in awhile about some of the university staff, so students could get some idea of what it is like on our side. It could be an eye-opener for them.

Darrell Reed, 22, geology, graduate student--It's been real good. I'd like to see more feature articles and a bit more sports coverage.

Carol Bellinger, geography, senior--It's adequate for campus activities. Include next quarter a proof-reader on the staff.

Kourosh Habibpour, 35, business, graduate student--First of all, I really like the opinion polls. Most people are too lazy to write letters to the editor and the polls are good because they let people know what others think. More news about the school is needed, such as what departments are doing and what problems they are facing. The administration would see this and learn more of what the students want and need.

TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

- ACROSS
- 1 Sank a tee shot
 - 5 Majority
 - 9 Navigates
 - 14 Account
 - 15 To the sheltered side
 - 16 Arm bones
 - 17 Cash register
 - 18 Italian coins
 - 19 Morning in Nice
 - 20 Wrath
 - 21 Peace move
 - 23 Behavior
 - 25 Image
 - 26 — bag
 - 27 Sale term
 - 29 Idiot
 - 32 Sufficient
 - 35 Season
 - 36 Storage building
 - 37 Delude
 - 38 Vaporizer
 - 39 Stratford-on—
 - 40 Partner
 - 41 Antler
 - 42 Knight's mount
 - 43 Car of the past
 - 44 Stiffens
 - 45 Anguish
 - 46 Nary
 - 48 Farewell party
 - 52 Furnaces: 2 words
 - 56 Gal in a song
 - 57 Type style
 - 58 Dry
 - 59 Marsh
 - 60 Stair part
 - 61 Church leader
 - 62 Tableland
 - 63 Boxing brothers
 - 64 Unique person
 - 65 Crafts' partner
- DOWN
- 1 House area
 - 2 African city
 - 3 Girl's name
 - 4 Pa.'s neighbor
 - 5 Antagonism
 - 6 Alop
 - 7 Wheys
 - 8 Palm reader
 - 9 Rhus genus shrub
 - 10 Texas town
 - 11 Concentrated
 - 12 Put
 - 13 Transmitted
 - 21 II —: Mussolini
 - 22 Hazy
 - 24 Lulu: Slang
 - 27 Singer Vikki and artist Emily
 - 28 Hunting dog
 - 30 Agave
 - 31 Pool
 - 32 Off
 - 33 Breakwater
 - 34 Processional dance
 - 35 Locality
 - 36 Overstuffed
 - 38 Luster
 - 42 Family members
 - 44 Nasty looks
 - 45 Garden tool
 - 47 Fur
 - 48 Marsh bird
 - 49 Noted Can. doctor
 - 50 Gounod work
 - 51 Insects
 - 52 Thyme, e.g.
 - 53 Charles Lamb
 - 54 Partly inundated forest
 - 55 Cast or pig —
 - 59 Wee in Glasgow

UNITED Feature Syndicate

Last week's puzzle

ARIS	HOWTO	RASH
DAFT	OREAD	ELKO
EFFERVESCE	PAIL
STYMIE	TIS	ESPY
	GREET	DAK
PARA	STR	TOTALS
ATONE	ANTIS	PEA
STANDUP	COMEDIAN
TAD	GREAT	SENSE
ERASED	NEB	BEER
	GAS	CASES
COED	GAD	SHREDS
ARNI	ARISTOCRAT
METS	SLATE	MINE
POST	HONED	PEEP

Yearbook postponed

A.S. President Ron Weigelt said plans to publish a university yearbook have been postponed until studies can determine if there is an adequate student demand.

The yearbook, "Kinickinick," was discontinued in 1971 after a period of sharply declining sales. According to Weigelt, the problem was researched and it was found that a lack of adequate promotion and changing student attitudes in the late 1960s and early 1970s combined to cause its failure.

Weigelt said two student publications were printed in 1976, including the "Graduate Record," featuring graduating seniors and the "New Student Record," with pictures of incoming freshmen. He said these were so well received that the A.S. legislature voted last spring to allocate $17,500 to publish a yearbook in quality to previous publications.

William Wynd, professor of marketing, is now conducting research to provide information on the feasibility of publishing a yearbook.

Oral and written reports of the study will be presented to the Associated Student Legislature on Monday, Dec. 4, at 2:30 p.m. in the A.S. office, third floor PUB.

Three fined for dorm vandalism

It started out as fun and games. No one stopped to think about what it could lead to.

What began on a Saturday night last month as a few drinks with congenial friends in Pearce Hall ended with damage to carpets, fire extinguishers and personal property, with fines totaling $1,826.16 for three non-students from Spokane.

According to Detective Sergeant Aethel Wise of Campus Safety, three men, all 18 years old, were visiting a friend in Pearce. After "a few drinks," the three left and, on their way out, shot off nine fire extinguishers from the elevator into the hallways. The extinguishers were then thrown off the fire escape balcony. Some were damaged beyond repair. Extinguisher repair costs reached $162.72.

The nozzle of one extinguisher was inserted through an open window near the third floor fire escape and emptied into a room belonging to two girls who had left for the weekend. Damage was done to records, jewel boxes and a television set. Both girls were awarded $300 over and above damages, Wise said.

The three youths were each charged with a gross misdemeanor, fined $608.72 and given a 90-day, one-year suspended sentence.

"None of them had a previous record," Wise said. "Now this will stay with them for the rest of their lives."

"What they did was serious," he added. "Just fooling with the extinguishers is a violation in itself. What if there had been a fire? Had someone been killed then the charges could have been manslaughter."

Another fire extinguisher was shot off in another dorm a week later, Wise said.

Book refund policy changed the registrar's office and the bookstore," he said.

Fredrickson, Kay Sherman, provost of academic affairs, Del Liljegren, registrar, Russ Hartman, assistant business manager, and Jerry Douglas, bookstore manager, agreed that administrators were liable for making confirmation changes. They decided students should be allowed to refund their books for the original cost.

To take advantage of the policy, students must present confirmation slip and book receipts to Registrar Del Liljegren. After obtaining special certification, the student must relay it to Jerry Douglas, bookstore manager.

United Nations study slated

EWU's Model United Nations group will take up the study of the African nation Malawi next quarter in the form of an MUN laboratory worth upper division government credits.

"The course, International Organization, will be offered once a year," said Nelson Allen, MUN chairman. "The laboratory section will be two days a week. It will basically be run by students."

Three days a week the class will focus on international organization. The course is part of the department of government's international politics and comparative politics series.

The course will be taught by Dr. Ernst Gohlert, professor of government, and Kent Goodspeed, EWU diplomat-in-residence.

Students interested in the class or the Model United Nations group should contact Gohlert at Patterson 2053.

Journalism contest set

Journalism entries in the fields of print news, broadcasting, photojournalism and student journalism will be accepted until Jan. 27 for the eleventh annual Robert F. Kennedy awards for outstanding coverage of the problems of the disadvantaged.

The competition is the largest program to honor outstanding reporting on problems of the disadvantaged. Professional awards are given in the four journalistic coverage categories of print (newspaper and magazine), television, radio and photojournalism.

Entries may include accounts of the life styles, handicaps, and potential of the disadvantaged in the U.S., insights into the causes, conditions and remedies of these situations, and critical analyses of public policies, programs, attitudes and private endeavors relevant to the disadvantaged.

To be eligible, entries must have been published or broadcast in the U.S. for the first time in 1978. Each copy of each entry must be accompanied by a copy of the appropriate entry form. Only films, tapes and cassettes are returnable, and only upon request.

Print news entries must be submitted in three copies, and must be mounted in scrapbooks. Print news entries may not exceed 14 inches by 17 inches in mounted size.

A cash prize of $1,000 may be awarded to the entry judged most outstanding in each group, and a grand prize of $2,000 may be awarded to the most outstanding of the four category winners.

Entries must be received by the Robert F. Kennedy Journalism Awards Committee, 1035 30th St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007 no later than Saturday, Jan. 27.

The national Indian newspaper, Akwesasne Notes, won the RFK Journalism Award in 1973.

COUPON.....COUPON.....

Michael's
DEPT. STORE

$2 off any fashion top from "THE ATTIC"

Coupon expires Dec. 5, 1978

414 First Cheney 235-6511

COUPON.....COUPON.....

This Year . . . INSTEAD of "fad" items, Broken, Out of Batteries, or Disused by New Years . . .

Make it MUSIC!

Our $519* system gives most people everything they'll ever want in a stereo, in features and total sound!

ADVENT

YAMAHA

Garrard

ortofon

What do you really want in a stereo system? Isn't it just this: the best possible reproduction of music, from records and radio, at the lowest possible price? Then this system merits your careful consideration.

The key to its exceptional musicality is the new Advent/1 loudspeaker. It has the same amazingly accurate tonal balance, extended high frequency response and power handling ability as the larger, best-selling Advent Loudspeaker. In fact, it comes within a half octave of matching the bass performance of its big brother, at a far lower price!

But great speakers are not the whole story. This system is powered by the Yamaha CR-220 am/fm stereo receiver, with all the quality and features we've come to expect from Yamaha. Its craftsmanship, low distortion and reliability match those of the biggest, most expensive Yamaha models.

The natural completion of System 519 is the new Garrard GT 25P semiautomatic turntable. Its simplicity and elegant styling place it far ahead of all competitors. Particularly important is its low tonearm mass, which imposes no limitations on the widerange Ortofon FF 15E cartridge.

System Price $519

Including Our Blue Chip System Warranty

Just $85.47 Down, $21.95 A Month!

Cash Price with Tax $545.47 — Down Payment $85.47—24 Monthly Payments $21.95—Total Deferred Price $612.27—Annual Percentage Rate 12%—Upon Approval of Credit—Insurance, If Desired, Extra.

STORE HOURS:

OPEN TIL 9 MON & FRI
10 a.m.-6 p.m. T, W, Th, Sa
OPEN SUNDAY 12-5

STEREOCRAFT
11223 E. Sprague Phone 924-5557
Also in Ellensburg, Walla Walla, Pullman and Yakima

Kirby Company of Cheney
Vacuum Sales and Service
ALL MAKES
NEW AND USED MACHINES

Students: We have machines for you starting at $22.50.

ALSO: CUSTOM PRINTED T-SHIRTS YOUR DESIGN OR OURS

502 1st

Mon-Sat 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

235-8484

CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

Tremendous Savings on New & Used Machines

"WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE BEST"

Associated Students Government of Fall Quarter

RON WEIGELT, President

Ron has been involved in student government for years. His present job requires that he spend 30-50 hours a week going to meetings, planning events, attending conferences and other social events.

FRED McDOWELL, Vice President

The job of vice president is intense and demanding. He must follow Ron's directions for jobs and do other duties such as elections which require about 80 hours of preparation.

KIM WISEMAN, Speaker of the Legislature

The legislative branch holds the purse strings to all budgets and must keep control of the A.S. budget of over $300,000.

STEVE SCHNEIDER, Administrative Assistant

Steve served Fall Quarter and won't be returning this winter. Steve refilled everything in the office. He must also fill positions on committees. Kathy Rodgers will replace him.

DAVID LEWIS, Attorney General

David's job is diverse. He organized the bus shuttle, managed traffic court and accomplished other high level administrative duties. He will not be returning Winter Quarter.

RICHELLE POTTER, SARB Chairperson

Richelle worked all summer quarter and most of Fall Quarter. She organized dances, concerts and various other forms of entertainment.

GARY NICHOLS, Director of Public Relations

Gary's job is to handle all non-social publicity. He handles club fairs, press releases and advertisements for all forms of media.

STEVE NACCAROTO, Assistant to the Director of Public Relations

Steve worked in the public relations office for most of Fall Quarter where he gained experience in handling publicity. Steve is now in charge of SARB publicity.

DWIGHT VAN BRUNT, SARB Special Activities Assistant

Dwight started Fall Quarter in the special activities position where he gained experience and insight of the organizational procedures. He is presently chairperson of SARB.

TIM FREDRICKSON, Assistant to the Attorney General

Tim has worked under David for Fall Quarter and will be on sabbatical until Spring Quarter. He's accomplished the bookstore refund policy and initiated a consumer advocacy approach to student problems.

DIANA MORALES, Secretary

Diana is the secretary for all the legislators and cabinet. This totals over 20 people. Her major concerns are keeping organized and maintaining her sanity.

THE A.S. WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE FOLLOWING PEOPLE FOR THEIR TIME AND EFFORT:

Nelson Allen, Chairperson of ASCIB; Kathy Rodgers, Administrative Assistant for Winter and Spring Quarters; Sue Reslin, Public Relations Assistant; Louise Lauff, Legislature Clerk; Rich Kuda, SARB Publicity; and all SARB and other committee members.

Policies Enacted This Quarter

1. Bus Shuttle between Cheney and Seattle, the cost runs about half of a normal trip.
2. Bookstore refund policy developed for students who buy books then receive schedule changes.
3. Winter quarter starting date moved from the 1st to the 3rd.
4. First club fair with 15 clubs presented.
5. First grievance notice. (see bottom of page)
6. Campus safety agreed to publicize parking changes.
7. Parking lot closures stopped.

Fall Quarter Entertainment

1. Excellent movies at low cost
2. 99¢ dances
3. Concerts
 - a. James Lee Stanley
 - b. Grateful Dead
 - c. Shawn Phillips
 - d. Jazz Concert
4. Speakers
 - a. John Dean
 - b. Congressional Candidates

NEXT QUARTER

1. State lobbying against tuition increases.
2. More speakers, concerts, Monte Carlo night, semi-formal.
3. Survey of student attitudes.

WAITING FOR BOT ACTION

1. $16,000 sound system for PUB.
2. Increase minimum wage to $2.47.
3. Full time activities director.

A.S. Legislature members from left are: Melody Lewis, Steve Kinn, Vickie Elder, Dennis Blackburn, Ron Keene, Speaker Kim Wiseman, Leg. Clerk Louise Lauff, Marc Lindsey, Denver Parmenter, Mike Leahy, Ernest Sjoberg.

EWU GRIEVANCE NOTE

EASTERN WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

This buck is good for one (1) direct communication between you and someone interested in hearing and responding to your concerns. If you are POed at somebody, or over some issue, or if you want some information, or just want to make a suggestion — — — fill in this buck, check the appropriate box on the back and drop in the campus mail.

Dear _____

Date _____ Signed (Optional) _____

Address (Optional) _____

Gallery

It's a calendar again

SARB gives events preview

Despite misfortunes Associated Students and the Student Activities Review Board suffered this quarter, plans for next quarter are shaping up nicely, says Acting SARB chairman Dwight Van Brunt.

Van Brunt said that while he is mainly responsible for scheduling dances, he is also working on bringing to Eastern's campus several mini-concerts as well as a major concert. SARB is presently looking for committee members and Van Brunt says-welcomes any suggestions students want to offer regarding types of entertainment they'd like to see here.

Winter quarter's entertainment activity calendar will have a hangup, flipover format, to the relief of many who have complained about past designs. No games, frills, no fancy stuff--weekdays will have names and seven-day weeks will span the calendar's width.

Recent calendars, because of their lack of conventional layout, have been a frequent source of student gripe. "They're confusing. . . a waste of materials, time and effort. . . useless," students have said.

Van Brunt, in a "sneak preview" of SARB-sponsored winter events, listed the following: A Morrison Hall band-share dance, with United Flyte, 9 p.m.-1 a.m. in the PUB on the 12th, and another dance featuring music by Storm. Feb. 3 was the date named for the winter quarter formal.

Evan Rupert photo

Their reach is unending

Two members of the EWU University Dance Theatre prepare for tonight's program. The annual fall production, which opened Wednesday, features 17 Eastern performers.

Keynotes

Without a doubt, this year's sole music success story is Billy "Piano Man" Joel. With his album The Stranger, Joel has attracted audiences of all ages--his spirited live performances are selling-out across the country.

Joel has another smash hit with his latest release 52nd Street, nine new compositions of ingenious originality. Although the album may not reach the level of commercial success which was achieved by The Stranger, Joel delves into new musical forms and utilizes a number of multi-talented musicians.

All of side one is excellent, starting with "Big Shot," a spirited rock tune. Joel then mellows out with "Honesty" which is followed by "My Life," the first hit from 52nd Street. Side one ends with "Zanzibar," another typical Joel song which includes excellent trumpet work by Freddie Hubbard.

Side two features a variety of interesting tunes, including "Until The Night," a slow tune reminiscent of the 60's getaway from the traditional Joel sound.

Billy Joel's vocal and piano work continues as up to par. Numerous saxophone solos are well presented by Richie Cannata. 52nd Street presents the Billy Joel sound at its best and a music fan of any caliber would fine the album a worthwhile purchase.--G.S.

Country-western music seems to be rocketing in popularity, and Waylon Jennings is doing all he can to insure this on his latest album, I've Always Been Crazy.

It is rare that a country singer can come across as little more than a corny cowboy to the popular music fan, but Jennings comes across in "Crazy" with a sense of sincerity and truth.

If the album has a major flaw, it would have to be in that it lacks variety. Even in a medley of Buddy Holly hits, Jennings doesn't break away from the slow-paced style he is known for.

The themes are definitely country, with songs like "Tonight the Bottle Let Me Down," and "I Walk the Line," but the meaning comes across with no problem.

Waylon Jennings is building quite a gathering, and I've Always Been Crazy isn't hurting things a bit.--R.S.

Vaudeville, jazz flavor ACT I motifs

Scott Joplin and silvery moon vaudeville flavors University Dance Theatre's fall production, ACT I (The Dance), which opened last night and plays tonight, Dec. 1 and 2 at 8 p.m. in Eastern's University Theatre.

The dance program includes "Shuffle Along," a suite that shuffles through 70 years of American jazz; "La Femme," choreographed by graduate student Linda Lincoln; and "La Maison," a suite of dances describing the architectural heritage of mankind.

Live music with vocalization by Karen Beardsley with Don Carey at the piano will be featured during segments of the production, directed and choreographed by Associate Professor Edie Bucklin and artist-in-residence Leonard Fowler.

Lighting and special effects for the programs are being handled by drama department chairman Norm Boulanger.

Eastern students will be admitted to the production in the University Theatre free, others $3. For information and reservations, call campus ext. -2229, or from Spokane, 838-5271.

University Theatre will also host a dinner program at Cheney's Fireside Restaurant. Cost will be $10 per person for dinner and dance performance, to be held Dec. 2, prior to the showing in the University Theatre. All proceeds will go to a dance scholarship fund.

Opera tenor featured at choir concert

Eastern's music department will present a choral concert Sunday, Dec., 3 at 8 p.m. in Showalter Auditorium.

Opera singer Sosio Manzo of New York's Metropolitan Opera, brother of the choir's director, Ralph Manzo, will perform with the group.

The American-born tenor attended Central Washington University, UCLA, and was awarded a fellowship by the Proscenium Opera Company to continue repertory in Italy. He has performed at Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center as well as other famous concert halls.

He will be featured at Sunday's concert in several well-known opera works. His wife and daughter are expected to provide his instrumental accompaniment on piano and flute, respectively, said Dr. Ralph Manzo.

Also at the concert, choir members will premier "Mass" performance of the piece in the Pacific Northwest and only the third in the United States.

People Power

helps prevent birth defects

March of Dimes

I WANT THIS BUCK TO STOP AT:

- Admissions/Records/Student Info. Services/Systems
- Allied Health
- Art
- A.S.B. Offices
- Audio Visual
- Board of Trustees
- Bookstore
- Business Division
- Business Office/Accounting
- Campus Services
- Cashier
- College Relations
- Continuing Education
- Counseling
- Data Processing
- Assistant to Provost for Student Activities
- Provost for Student Services
- Financial Aid
- Tawanka
- Graphics
- Housing
- Humanities/Creative Arts/Radio KEWC/Focus
- I.D. Center
- Instruction
- Library
- Minority Affairs
- Personnel/Executive Assistant to President
- Physical Ed./Gym
- Plant Operations/Security
- President
- Public Information
- Registration
- Science
- Social Science
- Student Health Services
- Rap-In
- Women's Center
- PUB Business Office
- Veteran Services
- Sutton Hall
- Provost for Academic Affairs
- Black Student Union
- Native American Club
- Chicano Organization
- Legal Aid
- A.S. Attorney Office Ombudsman
- Dressler
- Dryden
- Streeter
- Morrison
- Pierce
- Louise Anderson
- Other

Ringling their chimes

'Rhythm band' winds up

Tonight the award winning EWU Percussion Ensemble will be presenting their eighth annual Percussion Pops Christmas Concert. The Ensemble, which consists of 11 percussive arts students is directed by Professor Martin Zyskowski.

In 1978 Zyskowski's group won first-place ratings in both the Percussion Ensemble category and well as Mallet-Keyboards category at the Western States Percussive Arts Society Competition Festival held last May at California State University at Northridge.

The ensemble travels to various conventions and conferences, and for the past five years the young percussionists have taken first place in the Washington State Percussive Arts Competition.

Tonight's 8 o'clock performance will feature Bach's Fuga-Five, two percussion pieces by arranger Ron Delp, and two Zyskowski arrangements, "If" and a traditional Christmas medley. Both pieces will feature vocalist Dee Dee Smith. The Pops Christmas medley will also feature the 13-piece EWU Trombone Choir under the direction of Richard Obregon.

The percussion concert is dedicated to Fred Hartley, former percussion instructor at Eastern and principal tympanist for the Spokane Symphony Orchestra. Hartley will be honored for his numerous contributions to the advancement of percussive arts in the area.

Admission to the concert is free and donations may be made to the Fred Hartley Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Entertainment briefs

DOC ROCKIT, a three-piece rock and roll band, will be headlining a mini-concert in the PUB tonight at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $2 and may be purchased at Showalter's Hall and Goofy's tavern in Cheney or at the PUB Info Desk and all dorm offices.

This event is sponsored by the Apathetic Student Society of EWU. The ASS is a not-for profit society organized to: adequately represent the apathetic student of EWU, provide campus entertainment and generate interest from apathy, says the organization's president, Dan Bailey.

The Spokane Opera House Saturday, Dec. 9 will host Kenny Loggins—a hit solo act just coming into his own. The former member of the successful pop duo "Loggins and Messina" is gaining popularity and acclaim with his album "Nightwatch" and hit "Whenever I Call You Friend," recorded with the help of Stevie Nicks of Fleetwood Mac fame.

Appearing with Loggins will be Toto, a multi-talented young band composed of session musicians with numerous big acts. Toto's single "Hold the Line" and their debut album are selling well since their release a month ago.

The concert starts at 8 p.m., Dec. 9.

The Spokane Symphony Orchestra continues its 1978-79 season with back-to-back performances on Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Opera House.

Featured as guest artist will be French horn master Barry Tuckwell, playing the Mozart Horn Concerto No. 2 and premiering for Spokane audiences Thea Musgrave's Horn Concerto, written in 1970 and dedicated to Tuckwell.

Tickets are available for both performances at the Symphony office, W. 245 Spokane Falls Blvd. or at the Spokane Opera House.

Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," starring Scrooge, Tiny Tim and the ghosts of Past, Present and Future, opens at Spokane's Civic Theatre tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The production, directed by Dorothy Darby Smith, has a cast of 54 which should get even the stingiest Scrooge into the holiday spirit.

Dr. Vincent Stevens, Dean of Health Sciences at Eastern, and the theatre's president, is playing a minor role in the production.

The Dickens classic runs tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m., and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. See Bulletin Board for additional showings Dec. 6-10 and 13-16. For ticket information and reservations, call Spokane 325-2507.

Bulletin Board

ON CAMPUS

- Now-Dec. 7 EXHIBIT: Hugh Webb, mixed-media, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., weekdays, EWU Gallery of Art, Art Building
- Now-Dec. 6 EXHIBIT: Judy McMillan, needlework, noon-4 p.m., Pence Union Gallery
- Now-Dec. 8 EXHIBIT: Tom Gore, photography, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Grande Photo Gallery, Art Building
- Nov. 30 IN CONCERT: EWU Percussion Ensemble, Percussion Pops Concert, 8 p.m., Music Building Recital Hall
- Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2 PROGRAM: The Theory and Practice of Bellydancing, with Lynette Broadwell, noon, Women's Center, Monroe Hall
- Dec. 1 ON STAGE: Doc ROCKIT with Madrigal, PUB, 8 p.m., $2
- Dec. 1 ON STAGE: EWU Dance Theatre, 8 p.m., Drama Building, call ext. 2825 for information and reservations, from Spokane 838-5271. EWU students free, others $3
- Dec. 1 ON STAGE: Mexican Dance Program, presented by WSU theater group "El Quinto Sol," 12:30-2 p.m., PUB. Sponsored by EWU's Chicano Education Department
- Dec. 2 DINNER-DANCE: Tawanka Commons' annual Christmas affair. Seatings at 4, 5 and 6 p.m.; dance with live music by Juggernaut 9 p.m.-midnight. Meal free to meal ticket holders, others $4; dance admission free. Informal
- Dec. 2 and 3 MOVIE: A.S. matinee, "Cartoon Festival" plus Christmas Play, presented by the EWU Drama Department
- Dec. 3 MOVIE: "Murder by Death," 7 p.m., Sunday matinee, 2 p.m., PUB
- Dec. 3 IN CONCERT: EWU choral concert, with guest Metropolitan Opera singer Sosio Manzo; 8 p.m., Showalter Auditorium

OFF CAMPUS

- Nov. 30 RECITAL: Leroy Bauer, viola, Jay Mauchley, piano, 8 p.m., SFCC Music Building Auditorium
- Dec. 1-3, 6-10, 13-16 ON STAGE: Spokane Civic Theatre presents "A Christmas Carol," 8 p.m. For reservations, call Spokane 325-2507
- Dec. 1 IN CONCERT: Oak Ridge Boys, 8 p.m., Spokane Opera House
- Dec. 2 DINNER THEATER: University Dance Theatre closing night scholarship fund-raiser. Cocktails, 5 p.m.; dinner at 6 p.m., Cheney Fireside Restaurant. Dinner-dance concert, $10; dance performance only, $3, EWU students free
- Dec. 2, 3 IN CONCERT: Spokane Symphony Orchestra with Barry Tuckwell, French horn, 8 p.m. Saturday; Sunday at 3 p.m., Spokane Opera House
- Dec. 5 IN CONCERT: SFCC choirs, SFCC Music Building Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Dec. 6, 7, 8 RECITAL: Traditional holiday program, "Christmas Fantasy," 8:15 p.m. (7:30 p.m., Friday), Unitarian Church, W321 Eighth, Spokane. Presented by Connoisseur Concerts Association
- Dec. 7 IN CONCERT: SFCC concert and stage bands, 8 p.m., SFCC Music Building Auditorium
- Dec. 9 IN CONCERT: Kenny Loggins with Toto, 8 p.m., Spokane Opera House
- Dec. 10 IN CONCERT: SFCC Symphony Orchestra with guest artist James Edmonds, EWU faculty member, piano, 8 p.m., SFCC Music Building Auditorium
- Dec. 10 ON STAGE: "The Messiah," presented by Whitworth College, 4 p.m., Spokane Opera House
- Dec. 11 IN CONCERT: B.J. Thomas, 8 p.m., Spokane Coliseum
- Dec. 13, 16, 17 IN CONCERT: Spokane Symphony Orchestra, "An Old Fashioned Christmas," 8 p.m., Sunday 3 p.m., Spokane Opera House
- Dec. 25-31 EVENT: Ice Capades, Spokane Coliseum

MARSHALL
STRINGED INSTRUMENTS
448-0407

Happy Harry has a direct line to Santa

Mosman's
CLOTHING

COUPON

The Book & Brush
OPEN MON. THRU THURS. 8 A.M. - 9 P.M.
FRI. - SUN. 8 A.M. - 6 P.M.

Arts & Crafts Supplies for creating your own personalized
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
15% Discount till Dec. 1
420 First Cheney 235-4701

COUPON

"THE WITTIEST MYSTERY MOVIE
IN YEARS." —Gene Shalit

By the time the world's greatest detectives
figure out whodunnit...you could die laughing!

NEIL SIMON'S

Murder by Death

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents A RAY STARK Production NEIL SIMON'S "MURDER BY DEATH"

Starring (in alphabetical order): EILEEN BRENNAN • TRUMAN CAPOTE • JAMES COOD • PETER FALK • ALIC GUINNESS • ELSA LANCHESTER • DAVID NIVEN • PETER SELLERS • MAGGIE SMITH • NANCY WALKER • ESTELLE WINWOOD

MUSIC BY: DAVE GRISIN • PRODUCTION DESIGNER: NEIL SIMON • WRITTEN BY: RAY STARK • PRODUCED BY: ROBERT MOORE • RASTAR

PUB 7 pm Sat., 2 pm & 7 pm Sun.

YEAR ROUND
ARTS AND
CRAFTS FAIR AT THE GALLERY OF ARTS
Over 50 Artists & Craftsmen

406 FIRST ST.
CHENEY, WA.
235-8486

Sports

Marksman take first

Eastern's varsity rifle team notched a double victory in recent national collegiate competition in Richmond, Kentucky.

Rifle Coach George Naluai said the Eagle squad won 4,397 out of a possible 4,800 points to capture the non-scholarship division title. Moorhead University of Kentucky was second. Tournament host squad, the University of Kentucky, which has dominated central and southeastern rifle conference action for the past two years, was third.

"The Kentucky Wildcats completed their course of fire after observing our sharpshooting performance," Naluai said. "I think they were scouting out the competition. They were aware of Eastern's reputation and quite impressed with the team's performance."

The Eagle squad dominated individual performances as well. Freshman Eddie Hale led the EWU marksman with 1,113 of a possible 1,200 points to take the second-place individual award. He was followed by junior Mary Hoban, fifth with 1,107; sophomore Paul Szott, eighth with 1,091; and senior Lonnie Price, ninth with 1,086. Eastern placed third overall in individual non-scholarship competition.

"Although not all of the non-scholarship schools in the eastern region attended, we feel we're very competitive on a national level," Naluai said. "We have an overall season record of 44 wins and five losses against all competition in shoulder-to-shoulder tournaments."

He said the Eagles have an Inland Empire conference record of one win and no losses, and will go up against the five competitors in five more matches. The next meet will be hosted by Eastern on Saturday.

GLASSES MADE TO ORDER

on Saturdays too . . .

The Sight Shoppe
W. 518 First In the Rldpath

Zags drop hoopsters

by Mark Brumleve

The Eastern Washington Eagles invaded Kennedy Pavilion at Gonzaga University Tuesday night looking for their second straight win over the NCAA Division I Bulldogs.

Gonzaga came into the contest undefeated, winning their opening game over Whitworth 83-70 last Saturday.

It was a fast paced first half and the Eagles, with a scoring spurt right before the buzzer, were trailing 39-38 at the half.

In the second half, Eastern won through an oppressing defense but Gonzaga's quickness and overall board strength spelled defeat for the Eagles.

The Bulldogs outscored Eastern 33-25 in the second half to give Gonzaga a 72-63 win and the Eagles their first loss of the season.

Gonzaga's Carl Pierce led all scorers with 20 points. For Eastern, leading scorers were center Emir Hardy with 15 points and Vic White with 14.

Eagles win Monday

A little pushing, a little shoving, a little running, deadly free throw shooting and a couple of slam dunks propelled the 1978-79 edition of the "Screamin' Eagles" to their first victory of the year, 31st in a row, at the Special Events Pavilion, with a 75-65 margin over cross-state Seattle Pacific Monday night.

The Eagles showed true marksmanship at the charity stripe by converting on 25 out of 28 shots from the line, including 19 in a row.

The Eagles started fast as they jumped out to a quick 12-4 lead, thanks mainly to junior point-guard Terry Reed firing often and accurately from the outside and 6-7 senior center Emir Hardy, hitting mostly from around the basket.

But it was Vic White's "hang gliding" slam dunk that started to stoke the fire to make the Eagle's engine move. White's shot moved Eastern out to a 24-13 lead and the express kept on moving.

Though the taller Falcons controlled the backboards 45-44, it was Eastern's pressuring-style defense in the first half that caused Seattle Pacific to turn the ball over 11 times in the first 12 minutes.

Hardy led Eagle scorers with 15 points and eight rebounds. Sophomore Roger Boesel added 14 and Reed chipped in 12.

Adam Namerow photo

Emir Hardy [44] attempts a basket but is blocked by a Seattle Pacific player as Eagle UliSledz [50] looks on. The first game of the season brought the Eastern squad a 75-65 victory over the Falcons.

Grapplers meet Bobcats

Sophomore Mike Stolp, who went to nationals last year, and Rubin Martineaux, a high school wrestling champion from Othello High School, are the only two undefeated Eagle wrestlers after three weeks of competition.

The grapplers travel to Bozeman, Mont. this weekend to participate in the Bobcat Big Sky Invitational. On Saturday, Dec. 9, the grapplers will be hosting the EWU Open Wrestling Tournament.

Coach Stanley Opp said the EWU grapplers beat Whitworth College 30-6 on Nov. 21, lost to the University of Oregon 37-7 Saturday and beat Grays Harbor College 34-7 to raise their dual meet record to two wins and one loss.

"No senior or lettermen wrestled against Whitworth because we felt we needed an opportunity to see how our freshman could do in competition and to find out what kind of balance we'd have towards the end of the season," said Opp. "It didn't hurt us that bad because we got pins from Dave Reimnitz at 150 pounds, Jay Brechenridge and Steve Filkens."

The EWU grapplers bounced back the next day by beating Grays Harbor College 34-7 behind pins from Rubin Martineaux at 136, Dave Reimnitz at 150, Fred Guterrez at 190 and Dan Thew at heavyweight.

FREE COLLEGE EDUCATION

Army ROTC

. . . A NEW program available for the first time at EWU and open to all students — men, women, Freshman through Graduate — allows you to earn the FULL COST of your education, including TUITION, BOOKS AND FEES — with enough left over in most cases to cover ROOM & BOARD.

. . . AND, there is NO Active Duty obligation unless you choose it.

. . . Even if you're an upperclassman or a Grad student you can still take advantage of this unique opportunity.

Can you afford to let this chance slip by?

GET DETAILS NOW — CALL OR VISIT

CAPTAIN JIM SPRING
ROTC DEPT. (CADET HALL)
EASTERN WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
359-2386/2387

24-hour Towing—Complete Body Shop—New & Used Auto Parts

Dave's Auto Repair
Complete Foreign Car Repair
Servicing All Major Foreign Makes

SPECIALIZING IN VOLKSWAGEN

1/2-Mile South on Cheney/Spangle Road

Cheney phone 235-6123

Spokane 838-3677

The Eagle Eye

By Dan Heiligenstein

The National Football League is going into its fourteenth week and 16 teams are still in line for playoff spots.

Cleveland, Seattle, New England, Houston, Denver, Pittsburgh, Oakland, Miami and New York are all still in the running for the five American Conference playoff spots.

In the American Conference East, New England is 10-3 and is two games ahead of Miami. All New England has to do is win two out of three games to clinch an automatic playoff berth. Miami has a chance to be one of the two wildcard teams. They will have to win all three games against Washington, Oakland and Miami. The New York Jets also have playoff hopes. Their schedule is to their advantage, as it is weaker than other contenders. The Jets have Baltimore, Cleveland and Dallas.

The AFC Central is virtually won, with Pittsburgh beating an 11-2 record. The Steelers are being chased by Houston and Cleveland. Houston has a 9-4 record and an excellent chance of making the playoffs. Two out of three would clinch a playoff spot. Cleveland has small hopes. With a 7-6 record, they will have to hope for upsets to other teams.

The Western Division is up for grabs with Oakland and Denver 8-5 and Seattle, 7-6. The division winner automatically gets a playoff spot. Denver has to beat Oakland and one other team to take the title. Oakland needs to beat Denver and its remaining two games to win the division.

Seattle has to hope Oakland beats Denver and loses to another team. Denver would have to lose twice for the Seahawks to be division champions.

In the National Conference, seven teams are in the playoff berth battle: Atlanta, Los Angeles, Green Bay, Minnesota, Washington, Philadelphia and Dallas.

Los Angeles leads Atlanta by two games in the Western Division. Los Angeles has a 10-3 record and needs only a Ram win and Atlanta loss to win the division. Atlanta still has hopes for a wild card if they can win two out of three. Winning their last three would insure them a spot.

Green Bay and Minnesota both have 7-5 records in the Central Division. The team that doesn't win the division probably won't make the playoffs. If they should remain tied, Minnesota would be champion as they beat and tie Green Bay.

The Eastern Division has three teams with high playoff hopes. Dallas, Washington and Philadelphia are in contention. Dallas is now the team they should be and is a game ahead of Washington. The Cowboys should be in the playoffs. Washington and Philadelphia are both tied with 8-5 records. Both teams have excellent wild card chances if they can win their remaining games.

Women open season

The EWU women's basketball team enters the 1978-79 season after its best season and being named the top small college team in the Pacific Northwest last year.

Bill Smithpeters, beginning his third year as coach, says he hopes to produce the third straight 20-victory season. The Eagles were 20-7 in 1977 and 23-9 in 1978.

The season's schedule includes 16 home games and nine on the road, with both Division I and Division II schools. Smithpeters said the squad may be competing on an independent status this year. The women were in the Eastern 4 league last year, but a member school dropped out and the league may be discontinued.

Leading the returning varsity members is Jae Jae Jackson, junior from Spokane, and last year's region nine first team selection. Jackson has been the offensive leader for the Eagles during the past two seasons.

Also returning is Sue Karstetter, sophomore from Spokane and leading rebounder. Becky Fate of Wapato, sophomore outside shooter, joins the floor general, Arlene Somday, Curlew, at the guard positions.

Smithpeters said his two major concerns are the demanding schedule and the growing strength of the EWU opponents.

The season's openers are scheduled for Friday against St. Martin's College and Saturday at the University of Washington. The first game on campus will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3, against Northern Montana College.

Shawn Boling photo

Eagle hoopster Maria Loos goes up for a basket during practice last week. The women's basketball squad begins the regular season Friday, with their first home game against Northern Montana College set for 3 p.m. Sunday in the Pavilion.

Runners place fifth

The Eagle men's cross country team battled near freezing weather, colds and sore throats to take fifth place at the N.A.I.A. cross country championship in Kenosha, Wisconsin last month.

Coach Jerry Martin said that Scott Conely paced the harriers by coming in 24th place in competition that included 46 teams and 412 runners.

Martin said the other six runners to place in the competition were Rick Geitr in 39th place; Steve Stageberg, 42; Jim Blacklock, 54; Don Magers, 70; Jay Terry, 85; and Steve Jurich, 130.

Sports shorts

Eastern's wide receiver Curt Didier and defensive tackle Steve Quigley were two of the three unanimous selections to the NAIA District All-Star Team.

Other Eagle student-athletes to be named to the All-Star team were Brent Caulk, 6-0, 220-pound junior offensive guard from Boise, Idaho; Jay Lemcke, 6-1, 225-pound junior defensive tackle from Vancouver, Wash.; Mike Blowers, 5-11, 220-pound junior linebacker from West Valley High School in Spokane; and Mike McLaughlin, 6-1, 190-pound senior defensive back from Ephrata.

Intramurals

High Society beat the Flyers 19-13 for the intramural league championship November 13 but not without a struggle. The game, hard fought, featured fine performances by both teams.

Tawanka Commons LUNCHEON MENU

THURSDAY 30: Split Pea Soup, Corn Beef on Rye with Corn Chips, Cream Chip Beef on Toast, Tuna Salad Bowl.

FRIDAY 1: Minestrone Soup, Fishwich, Hamburger Pie, Chef's Salad.

SATURDAY 2: Brunch.

SUNDAY 3: Brunch, Annual Christmas Dinner.

MONDAY 4: Cream of Potato Soup, Corndogs, Creole Spaghetti, Salmon Slad Bowl.

TUESDAY 5: Cream of Mushroom Soup, Submarine Sandwiches, Turkey & Dressing Casserole, Egg Salad Bowl.

WEDNESDAY 6: Chicken Noodle Soup, Pizza, Cream Tuna on Toast, Ham Salad Bowl.

THURSDAY 7: Tomato Soup, Tamales, Beef Stew, Fruit Salad Bowl.

FRIDAY 8: Assorted Soups, Fish & Chips, Assorted Casseroles.

TAWANKA WILL REOPEN FOR DINNER
TUESDAY, JAN. 2

Tickets are available at the Cashier's Office for ten lunches for $13.50 or $2.96 per day for all quarter.

Variety & Quality

Students,
Thanks for your patronage!
Stop in and have one for the road before you go.

Good Luck.
See you next quarter.

1204 First Cheney 235-6126

THE SOUND HOLE
music store

SALES REPAIRS LESSONS
banjos guitars mandolins dulcimers harmonicas recorders books records

"Christmas gifts for the musician"

FREE string sets - Buy one, get one free with this ad. (Limit one set per customer)

624-5033 W. 828 Sprague
(coupon good through Dec. 15, 1978)

$5 off coupon

J-217 $32.95	V-140 $63.95
J-216 $34.95	V-133 $48.95
J-226 $41.95	V-130 $41.95

(Coupon good through Dec. 24, 1978)

Peterson's Town & Country TV & Appliance
1814 Second, Cheney 235-6122

$5 off coupon

The Easterner

A Merry Christmas

from the

Alumni

EASTERNER...

Ineg Carol Dan Scott Liz Doug Mary Kitten Debbie Nick The Blue Dolphin Diane Chuck DAN Bruce Nance Linda Hal